FEATURES WILL SELL COLLEGE

Two striking assets are sure to stand out to prospective students of North Central Christian College.

1. Environment

The beauty of the property will furnish an attractive atmosphere in which students can best concentrate on mental and spiritual development. It has been expressed by educators that the physical environment of a college has an important bearing on students and how they study.

2. Quality Education

The product of "quality education" will mean an elevation of aims above mediocrity. It will be gained by measuring up to top educational standards and by furnishing each student with spiritual guidance for Christian growth.

crowd for the large recreation room. A variety of skits, songs, and musical arrangements were presented by groups among themselves, and several ministers acted as masters of ceremony. A short devotion was included in each meeting, and at the conclusion of activities sandwiches and ginger ale were served.

of Christian college administrators at David Lipscomb College. While there they received fifty shares of Life and Casualty Insurance stock in behalf of North Central Christian College from A. M. Burton. Each college and foundation represented there received the same gift from Brother Burton who was being honored on his 79th birthday. Each share is worth approximately $20.00.

PROPERTY NOW IN USE

A great deal of enthusiasm has been shown on the college property at Rochester during the last few weeks by youth of the area. On five different occasions young people from designated sections have assembled on the future campus for an entertainment and rally.

The first group to meet was on February 7, and they represented the east side of Detroit. Then on February 28 and March 14 the west side and the central areas met in that order. On April 5 southern Michigan and Toledo, Ohio met and on April 12 outstate Michigan youths had their day. Approximately two hundred young people gathered at each of the meetings, which was a capacity

DIRECTORS ARE ACTIVE

The Board of Directors continue to meet each month and sometimes twice a month to discuss matters dealing with promotion and organization of the future college. Between meetings there is a great amount of correspondence and preparatory work done by officers of the board and various committees. Steering committees have been functioning in the following work: education, finance, publicity, and property.

Many projects and activities are planned for this year that will further demonstrate the value of a Christian college here.

In February, Wheeler Utley and Lester Allen attended a meeting

Other activity by the board during the last few months have included meetings and talks with Christian educators and men of influence in the brotherhood so that our college may be started on a solid foundation. By this time your response and the combined efforts of all toward a school are well known throughout the country. Encouragement and confidence has been expressed from sources everywhere, along with advice for us to progress in steps of prudence and surety. It is our prayer to do just that.

BASIL COLTSON IN CHARGE OF PROPERTY

Brother Basil Coltson has been selected to be caretaker of the college property. He and his family have been living in the caretaker's house on the property since possession was taken in December.

Dedicated members of the Lord's church, the Coltsons are well qualified for the responsible task they have accepted. Brother Coltson has had previous experience in similar work.
