Fall regional days set for high school juniors and seniors

Ten dates have been selected for high school juniors and seniors to get a first-hand look at life on the campus of Michigan Christian College. Although transportation has been arranged from several geographic areas on special dates, students are invited to attend whichever date is most convenient for them.

Groups coming in pre-arranged transportation will arrive on Thursday evening on time for the regular weekly devotionals. The groups will then spend the night and following morning on campus. Some out-of-state groups will even stop by Detroit's Renaissance Center on their return trip on Friday afternoon.

If you would like to ride with any of the scheduled groups or would like to arrange your own carpool, please be sure to place reservations for your visit with Larry Stewart at (313) 651-5800.

At a Glance

Eighteen students served as camp counselors and special representatives of MCC in fourteen Christian camps this summer. The students, who will all be returning to MCC this fall, participated in a total of fifty-eight weeks of camping throughout Illinois, Indiana, Maine, Michigan, Ohio, and Wisconsin.

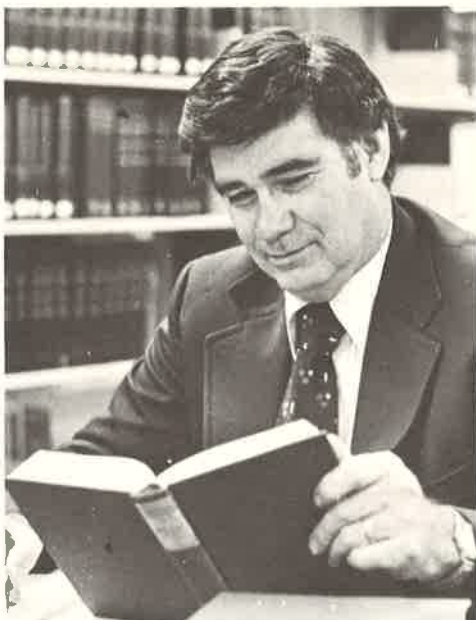

Jeanine Varner, one of MCC's English professors, recently participated as a major speaker for the Southeastern Comparative Literature Association's Flaubert Symposium at the University of Tennessee. Mrs. Varner's doctoral studies have included research about the French novelist, whose centennial is being commemorated this year.

Members of the high school class of 1981 already are sending applications to MCC. Leading the list as the first five applicants are Tim Gilfilen of Rockledge, Florida; Bobbie McGrew of Rochester, Indiana; Debra Parker of Harrison, Michigan; Denise Berger of Clawson, Michigan; and Greg Lintz of Flushing, Michigan. Apply early and enjoy priority on course selection next fall.

Noted counselor and former chairman of the Bible Department of Abilene Christian University, Dr. Paul Southern, is currently moving to Rochester to join the MCC Bible faculty. Dr. Southern will bring added depth to MCC's growing Bible program.

Construction workers have rebuilt the long stone stairway connecting the major walkways around the campus lakes. The MCC Associates funded the project, restoring an original landmark from the estate on which the campus is built.

Six students joined Bible faculty members Eldred Echols and Leonard Knight in mission efforts in South Africa this summer. They included Cherry Echols of Sterling Heights, Michigan; Clay Hart of Mansfield, Ohio; Cheryl Hodson of Benoni, South Africa; Barb Keene of Saginaw, Michigan; Tom McCurdy of Portage, Ohio; and Rick Root of Cadillac, Michigan. The group worked with the South Africa Bible School and churches in the area of Benoni. Currently four of the students plan to return to South Africa to live after their work at MCC.

Hindsley selected to study Johnson papers in Texas

Research among the presidential papers of Lyndon B. Johnson highlighted the summer for MCC history professor, Dr. Leo Hindsley. Dr. Hindsley was one of ten individuals selected by the National Endowment for the Humanities for work in the Johnson Library at the University of Texas. His study focused on French and American relations during the Johnson administration.

Dr. Hindsley began teaching at MCC in 1968. Prior to coming to MCC, he spent six years as a missionary in Paris and Toulouse, France. He recently completed his Ph.D. in diplomatic relations at the University of Michigan. He teaches French and History at MCC.
