Participate. At Michigan Christian College, an abundance of activity within a small student body allows you to participate, not merely watch. Even freshmen carry significant leadership roles in most sports and campus activities. You do not have to wait to participate.

Intramurals. Campus social clubs compete for an all-sports trophy in intramural softball, volleyball, basketball, pool, ping pong, and super star events. Both men and women teams compete.

Activity Courses. Activity courses for Physical Education credit include badminton, basketball, bowling, conditioning, racquetball, softball, and volleyball. Students also receive credit for participation in intercollegiate sports.

Athletic Association. As an independent college, MCC holds membership in the National Small College Athletic Association. The NSCAA is made up of over sixty colleges throughout the nation.

Intercollegiate Sports. Men participate in intercollegiate basketball, baseball, soccer, cross country, and track. Women compete in basketball, softball, volleyball, cross country, and track.

Scholarships. Activity Achievement Awards are available for both men and women students in all areas of intercollegiate competition. Applications are available through the Admissions Office.

Basketball Tradition. As the original sport offered by MCC, men's basketball has achieved an incredible record in intercollegiate competition. In recent seasons, the MCC Warriors have won several district championships and have played in the national finals most years. In 1989, MCC captured the NSCAA national championship in men's basketball.

Professional Sports. Students with a strong interest in professional sports enjoy the availability of major league competition near the MCC campus. You may watch the Pistons compete in the Palace or the Lions in the Silverdome, both about five miles from campus. The Tigers and Red Wings play in Detroit, about twenty-five miles from campus. While accessible to such activities, Rochester Hills still provides the peaceful privileges of one of Michigan's most popular suburbs.

The College. Michigan Christian College is accredited by the North Central Association. The campus features a scenic lake surrounded by eighty-three acres of rolling, wooded hills. Academically, you may choose from four-year Bible or Counseling programs, strong liberal arts degrees providing the first two years of most four-year programs, or from a variety of occupational degrees designed for immediate employment after MCC. You can enjoy the benefits of a personal, Christ-centered setting, which allows you to participate and learn in a caring community of friends.
