

The Program

Accreditation. MCC is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Bachelors' Degree. Students desiring a four-year degree in Bible may select MCC's Bachelor of Religious Education degree with a major in Christian Ministry or Biblical Studies.

Associate Degrees. Those interested in pursuing practically any Bachelors' degree may obtain the necessary foundation courses with either an Associate in Arts or Associate in Science degree from MCC. According to a recent alumni study, transfer students from MCC who complete a Bachelors' degree achieve an average of 3.11 during their junior and senior years of college.

Applied Science Degrees. Students desiring to seek employment immediately following their two years at MCC may select an Associate in Applied Science degree with a major in Secretarial Science or in the Legal Assistance Program.

Student Organizations. Student government, choral groups, drama productions, student publications, social clubs, and religious organizations provide a variety of informal learning experiences for MCC students.

Athletic Activities. Men's teams participate in intercollegiate basketball and baseball, while the women compete in intercollegiate softball and volleyball. Numerous types of sports are available in the intramural program.

Lectureship and Workshops. In addition to the annual Bible Lectureship in October, special seminars take place on campus each year. MCC personnel also conduct a number of Bible School and family workshops and Christian Education Sundays throughout the Midwest.

The People

Students. About 350 students from twenty states enroll annually at MCC. Normally, 80% live on campus and 80% are members of the churches of Christ.

Alumni. Over 3,600 students have attended MCC since the opening in 1959.

Board. General college policy is provided by the Board of Trustees, which consists of 38 individuals.

Administration and Staff. Five administrators and 26 staff members work with President Milton B. Fletcher in conducting the daily operations of the college.

Faculty. Academic courses are taught by fifteen full-time and fifteen part-time faculty members. Forty percent of the full-time faculty have earned doctorates. The majority of the part-time faculty members also serve in administrative or staff positions on campus.

Associates. The efforts of approximately 1500 Associates raise over $100,000 per year for MCC. Since their inception, the Associates have contributed $1,420,748 to the college.

Men's Club. This organization of men conducts special fund raising activities on behalf of MCC.

The Finances

Budget. MCC operates on a balanced budget, which totals $2,186,000 for the 1982-83 fiscal year. Student and Bookstore revenue provides 77% of this operating budget, while gift income provides the remaining 23%.

Debt. MCC's total long-term capital debt amounts to $380,235. This remaining debt is scheduled for retirement during the 1983-84 silver anniversary year.

Annual Gifts Program. Over 2,250 individuals contribute directly to MCC on an annual basis through two major programs. In the fall, many make monthly commitments to MCC through Phone-a-Visit. Each spring, Partnership Dinner attracts over 2,000 people for this $65 per place benefit dinner held on behalf of the college.

Estate Planning. MCC provides professional assistance at no cost to those desiring to include the college in their wills or estate plans.

Bookstore. Over $40,000 per year is dedicated to student financial aid from revenues of the campus bookstore. The largest portion of the store's business comes from the sale of Bible School literature and supplies, which are sold at publisher prices.

Financial Aid. A large majority of the students at MCC receive some form of financial aid, including various loans, grants, scholarships, and work programs. The average aid package covers over two-thirds of the expenses for a full-time, boarding student.

The Place

Campus. Nine major buildings situated around two campus lakes set the MCC campus apart as one of the most scenic in the country. The 91-acre campus of rolling, wooded hills is considered one of the most valuable pieces of property in the Rochester area.

Community. MCC is located in Rochester, one of the finest suburbs of metropolitan Detroit. This location provides students with the cultural, educational, and entertainment advantages of one of the nation's largest metropolitan areas, but also with the peaceful privileges of suburban living.

Church. Approximately 100 congregations of the churches of Christ are located within an hour's drive of MCC. Over 800 are located within 400 miles of the college.
