"[This] is a campus where God is active and ever-present."

Dave Rotberg

BS | PROFESSIONAL STUDIES '07

On the campus of Rochester College, the power and truth of scripture is shown by God's children living a life of love and service on a daily basis. This college has allowed me to experience many life changing opportunities, including an internship to Uganda, Africa during the summer of 2006. I have truly been blessed with relationships that will continue to influence me after graduation. Rochester College is a campus where God is active and ever-present. I see and know the path God has laid out before me and Rochester College will forever be part of that.

"The atmosphere ... challenges me in a safe context."

BS | BIBLICAL STUDIES '07

As a Senior Biblical Studies major, Rochester College has benefited me academically, but also through the experiences I've had outside the classroom. The atmosphere is one that challenges me in a safe context, enabling me to rework and better explain who I am and what I think. My idea of what it means to be "the church" has evolved since I arrived here four years ago from Syracuse, New York. The church should be a group of people who laugh together, pray together, and just live their lives together in authentic fellowship, and Rochester College is an amazing model of that.

Academic Excellence in a Christian Setting

Rochester College is uniquely positioned in that it is located in one of the largest metropolitan areas in the United States, and yet maintains the integrity of a student-focused college boldly declaring academic excellence in a Christian community.

In my time at Rochester College I have had experiences and opportunities that I would not have had at any other school. Because of the small size and welcoming atmosphere, I have been able to become involved in a number of different organizations on campus which have helped develop my character and prepare me for life when I leave Rochester. More important than this I have formed relationships that help to make me a better person. Whether it was someone I knew before I came here, or met after I enrolled, each relationship has developed and deepened during my time at Rochester College.

BS | ACCOUNTING '07

Growing up attending small Christian schools, I sought a college with a similar worldview that still held academics in the highest regard. What I found at Rochester College is better than I ever imagined. I've found motivated students who enjoy studying what they love, and dedicated professors who push students to be the best they can be. I've found committed staff who strive to provide the best college experience for every person who steps on our campus. I've experienced God's love in everyone from fellow student workers up to the people working in the executive offices. Rochester College has taught me that the most important things in life are not what you achieve, but what you allow God to achieve through you.

BS | INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES '07

When I enrolled at Rochester College I was a boy; however that boy progressively matured into an educated man. Toward the end of my sophomore year, God began to pull at my heartstrings, and when I was in Africa that summer I choose to fully commit my life to Him. I have learned many lessons from the faculty and staff that I will take with me after graduation, especially from Coach Pleasant. If you were to ask anyone who has played basketball for Coach Pleasant, "have you become closer to God?" without question, their answer would be "Yes!" My time at Rochester College has been life-changing and largely impacted my decision to serve God and His people and advance His kingdom here on earth.

BS | PSYCHOLOGY '07

Rochester College has been my home away from home for four years now. I came here with faith of a mustard seed, and my relationship with Christ has grown in so many unspeakable ways since then. This college has taught me who I am, and has helped me become a true disciple in every area of my life. It is a wonderful opportunity to go to a college in which God is the center of everything. With small class sizes and intimate dorm families, I have been able to overcome many obstacles in my life, and meet friends that I will continue to keep for the rest of my life!
